

Bancroft To Reopen After Thanksgiving

The Bancroft School reopening is targeted for Nov. 26, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert told the school committee Tuesday.

This is slightly later than the originally projected Nov. 15 reopening, but it will allow more time to complete the various projects going on there now, Seifert said.

A wooden bridge to a stair tower, found to be infested with carpenter ants in June and torn down, will not be replaced, Seifert told the committee. Instead, a conventional stairway is planned which will run directly from the second floor doorway to the ground. "We'll combine seventeenth century stairs with the fifteenth-century moat," Seifert said.

The new Carlisle rubber roof intended to stop leaks in the roof over the gallery around the instructional materials center (library), has been installed. According to principal Jack Coyle, the new roof stood up to last Saturday's rain without a leak.

The school was painted outside last summer, and there were two lofts left to be painted inside as of Tuesday.

New carpeting for the school may be installed by the projected opening, Seifert said. The carpeting contract was awarded to M. Frank Higgins Co. last week for $18,260, and the carpeting is due to arrive next week.

A handicapped-accessible restroom is being completed on the school's second floor.

The only work left to do, Coyle said, was some patch work on the roof at the front of the building, originally scheduled for repair with the rest of the roof.

The cost of that patchwork, however, pushed the project cost about $60,000 over the $195,000 approved by town meeting.

That patch work can be done, if necessary, while school is in session. "We've done it before," Coyle said.

Building inspector William Miens said this week that he would not allow the school to reopen without having that second floor exit opened. Seifert said the stairway was a cheaper and more expedient way of reopening that exit than repairing the bridge.

He said he thought the job might be done for less than the $2000 state limit on school work which can be done without a bidding procedure.

Carpet stained by leaks but not worn out will be cleaned and dried, Seifert said. School Committee Chairman Elaine Viehmann applauded the replacement of

There Are Samaritans

Some honest and considerate people made an Andover senior citizen happy and grateful Tuesday morning.

The elderly woman had gone to the Bay State National bank to cash a check and obtain some funds.

Later, doing some shopping at DeMoula's in Shawsheen Plaza, she discovered she had lost $600.

The distraught woman returned to the bank and was talking with Branch Manager William Hickey about her lost pass book, when James Milot, head cashier at DeMoula's, arrived with the book and the $600 cash.

It had been found by a clerk in one of the aisles at the market and given to Milot.

Two School Plans Adopted

The First Train Ride

Lee Becker, with her father, Rev. Randolph Lehman-Becker, peers out the window of the first commuter train to pass through Andover in a few years. They were aboard the special run last Monday afternoon which ended in Bradford where formal signing of agreements to initiate commuter service between Haverhill and Boston took place. The agreement is between the Merrimack Valley Transit Authority and the Boston and Maine railroad. Service is anticipated to begin in the area about mid-December.

Grade organizations being considered for the school building project were narrowed to two by the school committee Tuesday night.

Choosing from among four grade organizations and three variations on them, the committee settled on the 6-3-3 and 5-3-4 by a 3-2 vote.

Committeemen Joseph Finn and John Eaton voted in the minority, but were not opposed to the two organizations chosen. In fact they both favored them, but thought the 6-2-4 option should also be included.

Eliminated from consideration was the 4-4-4 because of concern that fifth graders were too young to be in a middle school, and because that organization allowed for more than 200 extra seats in the system.

Also out was the 6-2-4, despite Finn's and Eaton's objections, because of the two-year "revolving-door" junior high school. That option was opposed by both student members of the school building committee.

A variation on the 6-3-3, the 3-3-3-3, and the 2-3-3-4, a variation on the 5-3-4, met with disfavor because of potentially high transportation costs, and the necessity of sending students to four different schools during their public schooling.

The committee used a preliminary report by school building project architects in making their decision. The report by Perly F. Gilbert Associates suggested 13 individual schemes for distributing the 4700 students projected for 1985.

The report considered only the numbers of students which will be in the various grade levels and the capacities of the schools. Factors such as cost of renovation or construction or program were not considered.

In determining the capacities of the schools, the architects used a recommended student-teacher ratio of 22 to 1, and assumed each school had just classrooms. The size and availability of art and music rooms and other special facilities were not considered.

A total of five schemes were proposed for the 6-3-3 and 5-3-4 alternatives chosen.

For the 6-3-3, one alternative was the present distribution of students to schools. The other called for closing the East Junior High and turning South School into a junior high by adding 200 seats. The remaining elementary schools would remain elementary schools, and the high school would continue without addition.

Punchard Memorabilia

Punchard Exhibit Opens

A new exhibition, "The Punchard Schools," opens Sunday, Nov. 11 between 2 and 4 p.m. at the Andover Historical Society, 97 Main St. The exhibition will continue until early December. Featuring a variety of objects, the exhibit highlights the buildings which housed the Punchard Free School — from its opening in 1856, until it became the Andover High School in 1957.

The school, on the site of the current East Junior High, was the focus of much local activity and debate. Founded by Benjamin Punchard's bequest in 1850, when public high schools were just developing, the school was unique for its private endowment and its educational goals — free education for Andover students over age 12.

Photos, architectural drawings, costumes, mementos, books, furnishings, and plaster busts, such as Minerva pictured above, will illustrate the three Punchard schools and the many academic and social activities which occurred within their walls.

The Andover Historical Society is a non-profit educational institution open to both members and public. For information on open hours, exhibitions, tours, special events, and membership, call the Society office, open 9 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Young

Young people are always a subject of interest. In 1835 'The Peoples Magazine' blamed urbanization for the new type of young man, who was described as unhealthy, badly postured, pale and nervous, according to Old Sturbridge Village, the living history museum in Sturbridge.

Annual Shawsheen Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Friends of Shawsheen Neighborhood Association will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 13, at the Shawsheen School at 7:30 p.m.

Included on the agenda will be the election of officers and new board members, and a discussion of future events for the association, including the celebration of Shawsheen's acceptance on The National Register Of Historic Places.

Prospective members are also invited to attend.

Town House Topics

Erickson Resigns From Planning Board

David Erickson, who has served on the Planning board for 10 years — most recently as chairman — has resigned effective Nov. 13.

Erickson read a letter to selectmen Monday night indicating that he was resigning because of considerable increase in his business responsibilities. He said that could even mean an eventual move out of town.

He said it was a good time to change board membership because there are relatively few problems at the moment, and that because he felt a change in emphasis is in order. For the past 15 years, he said, they'd been concerned about controlling growth of subdivisions and that the town now has adequate regulations. During the next 15 years, he said, the town will be approaching stable maturity with a population of 40,000 to 45,000 and leadership will need different skills.

He said he'd found his work on the board "interesting and satisfying," and that "I'd recommend it to anyone."

Selectman Chairman Ed Harris called it a "tragic moment," and said he appreciated the town was grateful for Erickson's service. Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said Erickson's resignation could "only be accepted with regrets."

New General Manager Approved

Selectmen Tuesday night granted the Sheraton Rolling Green's request to name Robert Hyland Corcoran as general manager.

Corcoran formerly managed the Stratford Motor Inn and Mermaid

Tavern in Connecticut, and was most recently with the Sheraton organization in Spokane, Wash.

He has moved from the Rolling Green to an apartment in North Andover.

Appeals Board To Get New Associate

Selectmen Monday night will choose one new member as associate for the zoning board of appeals. They concluded a series of candidate interviews this week, and will be choosing from among them.

They will also discuss other candidates for possible future appointment, should the attorney general's office approve the recent town meeting vote increasing the number of associate members.

Recreation Facilities Under Study

The Community Services Committee is in the process of studying all town facilities nominally of formally under the jurisdiction of the Department.

Review of these buildings will continue at the committee's regularly scheduled meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 12. The meeting will take place at the Senior Center (Old Theatre Building on Essex Street) at 7:30 p.m. The meeting is open to the public and the committee welcomes all input from the community — historical fact or opinion.

Buildings presently being studied and/or reviewed include Ballardvale Community Center, West Andover Community Center, Iceland Road building, Bradlee School, Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium. Also included is a general overview of school usage by the department and the potential use of a new Recreation Lodge.

Shriners At Senior Center

The Shriners Burns Institute will be the topic of discussion when the Andover Havedn Associates meet on Thursday, Nov. 15 at 2 p.m. at the Andover Senior Citizens Center.

Leo Shiebler, program chairman for the associates, has invited Roger Hodgkins of the Aleppo Temple Shrine. He will present a slide program and discussion about the Shriners Burns Institute and the work being done on behalf of children by the Shriners. The public is invited to attend.

To Observe Children's Book Week

As part of the observance of Children's Book Week, the staff of Memorial Hall Library's Children's Room invites children and adults to meet Annie Gusman, children's book illustrator, on Saturday, Nov. 10 at 11 a.m. She will discuss how she illustrates books, especially for children in the 4-8 year age group.

Annie Gusman graduated from the Rhode Island School of Design in 1975 and also studied at the Kansas City Art Institute and the Aegean School of Fine Arts in Greece.

Since graduation she has been a freelance illustrator with a special interest in children's book illustration. Her first book was "The Boogey Man," which was written by Arthur Crowley and published in the spring of 1978. She followed that success with "Rat Stew" in the spring of 1979 and her latest creation, "Look At Me," a brand new book written by Charlotte Hall Ricks.

A native New Yorker, Miss Gusman currently lives in Brookline.

Aluminum Recycling Next Week

By Virginia Cole

Your last chance before winter to recycle Aluminum will be on Saturday, Nov. 17, 9-4. Bring your foil, TV dinner trays and aluminum cans to the rear of the town hall. Andover Recycling will check your cans and prepare them for sale.

We would like to remind you, now that the hot weather is over and you may not use as many bottles, that glass recycling means food jars as well as bottles. Now that we can't find a market for cans, if you really want to help the cause — recycle more, cut down on the waste stream, help manufacturers to use less energy — try to buy food in jars instead of cans.

There is a lot of choice. Fruit and some vegetables come in glass. Fruit juices, coffee, salad dressing, catsup, vinegar, molasses all this glass can be sent to Dayville, Conn. to make new jars at less cost and less use of energy.

Clear glass put in double grocery bags and on the curb on your regular trash day during the second week in the month, Nov. 12-15, or put in reusable cans or boxes clearly marked Recycle will lower the tonnage to be disposed of in a landfill in New Hampshire.

Brown or green glass must be put in separate bags; brown in one, green in another and will be picked up during the fourth week of the month, Nov. 26-29.

To Give Boston Concert

Tickets are now on sale for the return engagement of Joseph Schwartz, pianist, to Sanders Theatre, Harvard University, Cambridge, on Sunday, Nov. 25, at 3 p.m. This is his second annual appearance and he will play Beethoven, Schumann, Chopin, Ravel.

Schwartz, a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and presently a professor of Piano at Oberlin Conservatory of Music is fast becoming a familiar artist in the Boston area. Winner of National Guild of Piano Teachers' Gold Medal, Hollywood Bowl Auditions, Music Education League Concerto Competition and the coveted Naumburg Award, he is completing 20 years of concertizing in United States, South America, Canada and Europe.

For ticket information please contact Mrs. Jeanne Porter, 3 Ivanhoe Lane, Andover, Ma.

Bus reservations and tickets can be arranged for from Andover through Miss Irene Curtis, Park St., Andover.

Memorial Hall Library

Documentary Film On Vietnam

"Hearts & Minds," which won the Academy Award for Best Feature Documentary in 1974, will be the Friday Feature Film at Memorial Hall Library on Nov. 9 at 7:30 p.m. Director Peter David examines, through realistic graphics and strong language, the logic, actions, and consequences of American intervention in Vietnam and succeeds in presenting a balanced viewpoint which takes neither a pro- nor anti- American stance. Due to the subject matter, this film is not suitable for children under 12 years. Open to the public without charge.

Holiday Hours

In observance of Veteran's Day, Memorial Hall Library will be open regular hours on Sunday, Nov. 11 from 2 to 5 p.m., but will be closed all day Nov. 12.

Great Books Discussion

The Great Books Discussion group will continue their series on Becoming Human by discussing "Cat and Mouse" by Gunter Grass on Tuesday, Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library. New members are cordially invited and may join the group at any time.

talk to children (ages 4 to 8) and their parents about the books she makes. Join us on this occasion for a great opportunity to meet an artist and discover what goes into creating new books for children.

Films-on-Fridays for pre-schoolers (accompanied by parents) for Nov. 9 will be "Mole and the Lollipop," "The Ugly Duckling" and "Goggles." As usual show times are at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Lecture On Linen

Jane Nylander, curator of textiles and ceramics at Old Sturbridge Village, will present an illustrated lecture on "Linen in the Early Nineteenth Century" on Sunday, Nov. 11 at 3 p.m. at The Museum of Our National Heritage.

Admission is free and the public is invited to attend.

Linen was an important fabric for clothing and domestic items in early American homes. Nylander will discuss these linen articles and their production in the home. She will also explain why linen gradually declined in use because of the competition from cotton and imports.

Nylander has been on the staff of Old Sturbridge Village since 1969 as curator of textiles and ceramics. She is adjunct associate professor in the Department of American and New England Studies

A. Eugene Frulla, principal of the West Elementary School, Andover, was invited by the Central New York School Board Institute to participate in a recent conference held at Syracuse University. Frulla was a member of the group involved in a Round Table discussion which focused on Basic Skills In The 1980's. The following day, he presented the conference with a practical model for the development and institution of alternatives based on administrative theory and practice.

at Boston University and is a member of the Visiting Committee to the Department of American Decorative Arts at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston and a member of the Visiting Committee to the Textile Conservation Center at the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum.

In addition, she serves as a member of the Humanities Advisory Panel for the Massachusetts Council for the Arts and Humanities and is on the Board of Directors for the Costume Society of America

Check Water

Check the temperature on your water heater. Most are set for 140 degrees or higher, but you may not need water that hot unless you have a dishwasher. A setting of 120 can provide adequate hot water for most families. Reducing the temperature from 140 to 120 degrees could save more than 18 percent of the energy used at the higher setting. Even reducing the setting 10 degrees will save more than six percent in water heating energy.

Theroux Publishes Fifth Book

Alexander Theroux, Phillips Academy instructor and writer-in-residence, this month has published his fifth book, Master Snickup's Cloak. An illustrated fable for adult readers, Master Snickup's Cloak is the story, set in medieval Holland, of two star-crossed lovers. The lavish and intricate illustrations, teeming with tiny spirits and mutant devils, are the work of England's famous artist, Brian Froud, whose recent book Fairies is a best seller.

Theroux holds the Roger Murray Chair in English Literature and Language at Andover. His major novel, Three Wogs (1972), will be followed by the publication of a 1,000-page novel, Darconville's Cat, by Doubleday & Co. early in 1980. Master Snickup's Cloak, published by Harper & Row, now is available at the local bookstore.

East Jr. High Happenings

By Amy Higgins
And Heidi Lasch

We were honored to welcome Dave McGillvary at the seventh grade assembly last Friday. McGillvary ran across country from Medford, Oregon to Medford, Massachusetts, a total of 3,500 miles, for the Jimmy Fund in 1978. He showed the seventh graders slides of his experiences and while telling the students how he met his goal, he encouraged them to set their own goals.

The Guidance Office is offering conferences for the seventh grade students and their parents. The purpose of the conferences is to discuss how the students are adjusting to junior high and any problems they might have. These conferences began last week and the counsellors, Ray Danielson and Mrs. Norma Robrbs, have been able to meet with 85 percent of the seventh graders and their parents. If parents have any questions, they should contact the Guidance Office.

Representatives of the vocational school will be visiting with the eighth grade students Nov. 14 to tell them about the programs available to students there.

The student council has informed the student body of a canned food drive to be held the week of Nov. 12. Students are requested to donate as many cans as possible to make this year's drive to help the needy the best ever.

The student council has also announced that there will be a school motto contest to which students can contribute their ideas. The school motto will be officially chosen in about one week.

The girls' field hockey team played its final game against West Junior High Monday. The outcome of the game was a tied score, 0-0. Linda Hager, Chris Fortier and Wendy Young played an outstanding game.

Tomorrow is the annual blue and gold day here at East. Students dress in blue and gold and join in the school spirit by attending a pep rally which kicks off the annual East vs. West Freshman football championship game.

Andover High Notebook

By Renee Pruneau

On Oct. 27 and 28 the Andover High Choruses presented its annual Cabaret. During this evening members from the choruses performed acts which they had prepared.

Most were solos. Much time and practice goes into their presentation. All acts must tryout before appearing on stage.

This year's two MC's were Jay Winnick and Tom Carouso. They did an excellent job of sliding into each introduction. They also performed the Laurel and Hardy baseball skit (who's on first, what's on second...) with great likeness.

Just some of the evening's outstanding acts included Suzanne Russell with a splendid classical selection on the piano, Laura Need singing "A Tapestry," and Terry Enwright singing "Happiness Is."

Some of the parents from the Choral Parents Association also got into the act, to the chagrin of their children. It was considered one of the highlights of the evening though.

During the show's intermission desserts and drinks were served by the Acappella Group.

On both evenings one of the acts received a standing ovation. It was a song written and composed by one of Andover High's seniors, Barry Ota.

Halloween Safety

On Halloween, while the second graders at Sanborn School gathered around, Jean Pendergrass, media/librarian at their school, showed them how make-up can be used instead of a mask when trick or treating. Using stage make-up, Miss Pendergrass explained how color and line can change the appearance of your face. After applying the make-up Miss Pendergrass added a dress, cape, wig, hat, and walking stick to complete her witchy appearance. This demonstration was a culmination of the Halloween Safety Unit which was a joint effort between Sanborn's second grade teachers and the media/librarian.

Health Program Offered

As part of a series of projected health education programs, the West Junior High School Parents Advisory Council will be hosting an 'Evening on Drug Awareness.' The program will be held Wednesday, Nov. 28 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the West Junior High cafeteria. The program goal is to increase the level of awareness in parents and knowledge relating to substance abuse. Speakers for the evening include staff from Greater Lawrence Outreach, Inc.

The program agenda will include a questionnaire on drug awareness, lecture and slides on commonly abused drugs, and a discussion of indicators and precursors of potential use. Small groups will be formed to address the questions — "why do people use drugs?" and "What are viable prevention strategies for home, school, and community." Following the program handouts will be made available including a list of the numerous school and community personnel offering services in these areas.

The community is invited to attend this valuable program. A similar program was offered to, and well received by the principals this summer.

Discusses Program For Gifted Pupils

Representing Andover Public Schools at a recent workshop at the Higgins Armory Museum in Worcester was Gifted and Talented Program Coordinator Janis Baron.

The Oct. 25 workshop was jointly sponsored by the Cultural Education Collaborative and the Massachusetts Department of Education.

Representatives from school systems and cultural institutions in Massachusetts gathered to discuss ways in which they might collaborate to provide programs for the gifted and talented student.

Baron was one of two speakers who presented an example of an outstanding program which could serve as a model for other school systems. Sharing the platform with her was Merrie Blocker of the DeCordova Museum in Lincoln, who outlined Project Artbound, a program for visually talented students in nearby public school systems.

Andover's Gifted and Talented Program, recognized statewide, employs the services of the New England Aquarium, Museum of Fine Arts, Museum of Science, Harvard Semitic Museum, Peabody Museum and other cultural institutions.

Choral Groups In Reunion

All former Andover High School students from the classes of 1959 to 1979 who participated in any of the Andover High School choirs are cordially invited to attend a gala 20-year choral reunion to be held on Dec. 28 at the Christian Formation Center, in West Andover.

For the past six months, members of the board of the Andover High Choral Parents Association have been at work compiling lists of former Andover High School students who have been a part of the A Capella Choir, Madrigal Singers, Chorale, and Girls and Boys Choirs since 1959, a total which exceeds 500 individuals. Plans have been made to entertain this large group of musical enthusiasts and their guests with light refreshments, dancing and of course, singing under the direction of Keith H. Gould and J. Everett Collins, both of whom are very familiar to all former choir students. The date has been set to coincide with the holiday vacation plans of any who are presently away at school.

Invitations to the affair were mailed in early October to all those for whom current addresses could be located, but unfortunately many invitations have not been received and many former choir students are unaware of this special occasion. Due to this unfortunate occurrence, the committee for the reunion has extended the date for reservations to Nov. 28, and encourages all who have received the information by mail to pass it along to former classmates who should be included. Reservations are necessary, and may be made by contacting Mrs. Leonard Perry, 239 River Road, Andover or Keith Gould, Fine Arts Department at Andover High School.

Hopeful of a large response, the reunion committee intends to host the largest A Capella Choir ever and to provide an evening full of fond memories of times spent with the choirs at Andover High School.

Band Parents To Discuss Fund Raiser

The AHS Band Parents will hold their next general meeting Wednesday, Nov. 14 at 7:30 in the band room.

The results of the telephone questionnaire concerning the major fund raiser and the band competition trip to Woonsocket, R. I. will be discussed.

A list of band members and address will be available for those interested in forming carpools for rehearsals etc. for the rest of the year.

Amati Quartet To Visit Schools

The music mastery of Mozart, Beethoven and Dvorak will be brought to over 3,300 Andover public school students right in their own schools as played by an internationally renowned chamber music quartet Nov. 13, 14 and 15.

The Amati Quartet is being sponsored in the schools as part of the Malden Cooperative Bank at Andover's 1979-80 Cultural Enrichment Program. This program, now in its second year in the town, was introduced to Andover's students last spring when the Bank sponsored the Boston Ballet in the schools. The current season's cultural Enrichment Program is being expanded to include both Fall and Spring offerings.

Says Bank President Edward R. Marston, "By bringing quality performers of the arts directly into the schools, students are able to gain direct access to cultural offerings, they might otherwise miss. Further by organizing such offerings into a complete program, and by working with the school department, we are able to gear our series to the needs and desires of both the students and their instructors."

For example, so that the Amati Quartet could better acquaint themselves with Andover's students' knowledge of the arts to date, a teacher's workshop was recently held at the Bank's Andover office. Fine arts teachers and program coordinators from the school system were invited. At this workshop, Mary Hess one of the Amati performers, explained what would be covered in the school programs. The workshop also allowed time for questions and answers from the group.

Each performance in the schools will be approximately 45 minutes. The quartet will also play their music standing among the students, instead of on a stage, in most cases.

"This will create a better musical atmosphere by giving the students more direct access to the music and the performers, and by initiating a better rapport for all concerned," says Diana Kolbin, director of Andover's Fine Arts Department.

"The goal of the Amati program," says Hess, "is not to fill the whole performance with music — we will stop at intervals and explain various musical forms, information about the composers and answer questions."

The schools where performances will take place include: Sanborn, Shawsheen, Doherty, West Elementary, South School, West Junior High, East Junior High and Andover High School.

The Amati Quartet which was founded in 1977 at the Cleveland Chamber Music Seminar includes: Brian Reagin, violinist; Mary Hess, violinist; Steve Tenebom, violist; and Roger Low, cellist. For the past decade, individual members of the Quartet have performed together in various combinations at the Tanglewood Festival, the Meadowmount School of Music, and the Piedmont Chamber Orchestra tour of the Southeast. The group combines graduates from the most prestigious music schools in the country who have been individually trained by members of the legendary Guarneri, Budapest, Juilliard, Galimir and Kolish Quartets.

Mary Hess, Amati Violinist

From 1977-79 the Quartet gave performances in the Boston area under the name of Bostonis Quartet. They have also given concerts in the New York and Pittsburgh areas. Their name was taken from the Amati family who were master craftsmen of stringed instruments in Italy during the 17th and 18th centuries.

Future plans for the group include a complete offering of the Haydn Cycle of musical works in 1982, the 250th birthday of this musical genius. Plans are also being made to have this series include lectures and lecture demonstrations by noted Haydn scholars; and the Quartet has been asked to premiere a new work by composer John Peel, and to record a quartet in London by another composer, Craig Schuler.

To further highlight the Malden Cooperative Bank's Cultural Enrichment Program, a free public performance of the Amati Quartet is being scheduled for November 15th at 8 p.m. in conjunction with the Andover Department of Community Services. This program, which will take place at Addison Gallery, Phillips Andover Academy, will also include the works of Mozart, Beethoven and Dvorak.

Refreshments will be served and people attending this performance will have the opportunity to meet members of the Amati Quartet.

This entire three day musical offering to the Andover Community launches the bank's program which also includes bussing students to the Youth Symphony Concerts at Symphony Hall, Boston; providing classical records to the school department and the Boston Ballet in the Spring.

WESTern Roundup

By Tricia Gannon

West Junior High has been very busy with the many activities taking place in the school. As well as each of the sports events going on, the various groups and clubs are having meetings and conducting their weekly activities. At the first meeting of the Drama Club the officers were elected and are as follows: president, Mike Epstein; vice-president, Guy Brooksbank; secretary, Sylvia Boloin; treasurer, Christine Kubacki; chairman of publicity, Tricia Gannon. Tryouts for the annual production of the school play, will be held during the week of Nov. 12.

The ninth grade football team beat the Phillips Academy junior varsity team on Oct. 24. The team also beat Chelmsford, on Nov. 2, 20-0. The team's next game will be on Nov. 9 against East Jr. High. The coach of the team is Carl Lippman.

The eighth and ninth grade Boys' Soccer Team has just ended their season with their last game against East Jr. High on Nov. 2. With this win of 5-1, the coach, Arthur Nichols has led them through a great season with a record of 7-1.

Traditionalists — Welcome!

Become a traditionalist . . . make Towne Deli one of your regular stops as you course through your week.

Become a traditionalist by coming to Towne Deli?

That's right. Going down to the Deli is rapidly growing into an Andover tradition. Something that usually takes many years to establish, we have realized it in two short years.

The answer is a conglomerate of a wonderful assortment of good foods, excellent service, reasonable prices and our patrons themselves. The lively repartee takes the edge off tiring routines, in a word, getting away from it all. A high point is the drop-ins for Saturday and Sunday morning breakfast or lunch.

If you're in the mood to soliloquize . . . we afford all the privacy you want in our spacious dining room. That is always sunny and bright, adaptable to your mood.

We keep telling you — it's a great place, our great clientele makes it so!

The auction includes new gift items, handmade items, cameras, afghans and gifts for all ages. Bazaar items include canned goods, homemade preserves, candies, baked goods and Christmas decorations. Children's Toys To Be Discussed

St. Robert's Country Day School of West Andover held its annual Parents' Open House this week. This gave parents an opportunity to meet their child's teacher and the school faculty and to also have a conference about their child.

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, St. Robert's Country Day will hold its monthly board meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the school. Immediately following at 8:15 p.m., Atty. Edward M. Swartz, nationally known attorney and author of "Toys That Don't Care," will speak on the abuse prevalent in the manufacturing and marketing of toys. Atty. Swartz, who has lectured throughout the United States and abroad, will offer sound, practical advice to parents for the selection of new toys and for assessing the safety of those already in their child's possession. His lecture is free of charge and open to the public. A donation will be asked to help defray the cost of refreshments. St. Robert's is located on Haggets Pond Road which is directly off Route 133 in West Andover.

To Entertain

The J. Everett Collins Testimonial Dinner, to be held at the Sheraton Rolling Green Nov. 30, will feature entertainment by a group of talented former students who previously performed as "The Sheratoners." This group includes Andrea Atwood, Steve Bedrosian, Andy Campbell, Jane Cormier and leader Dana Cohen.

Tickets are now available through St. Robert's Rectory, Haggets Pond Road, Andover; Mrs. Ralph Skinder, 189 High Plain Road, Andover; and Keith Gould, Music Department, Andover High School. Table reservations for 10 will be accepted.

Financial Aid To Be Explained

The Guidance Department of Andover High School will hold a Financial Aid Information Night for parents on Tuesday, Nov. 13, in the Large Group Room at Andover High School at 7 p.m.

Financial aid, in general a complex process, is in a great period of change. Student eligibility, for both traditional and non-traditional students, has increased. Application forms and procedures are changing yearly. These changes have increased the need of students and parents to have up-to-date and timely information.

Miss Helen Reynolds, financial aid director at Bentley College, will present information on financial aid on Tuesday, Nov. 13, 1979 to the parents of Andover High students.

Parents of high school students who may be applying for financial aid for college are encouraged to attend.

Art Careers Day Planned

On Nov. 17, the Museum of Fine Arts will sponsor 'New England Art Careers/Portfolio Day' in Boston from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Last year's event drew more than 3,500 participants.

Featuring panel discussions on art careers and information on accredited art programs throughout the country, the Art Careers Day is intended as a service to students, parents, teachers and counselors seeking information on professional careers in the arts.

A full program of panel discussions with outstanding artists from a broad range of careers in art and design will be presented in the Museum's Lecture Hall and in facilities provided by the two host schools, the School of the Museum of Fine Arts and the Massachusetts College of Art. Highlights among the careers in art to be explored in the panel discussions are: fine arts and crafts, illustration, advertising design, photography, film museum work, art therapy and art education.

Representatives from more than 30 of the country's art colleges will be on hand from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to talk with participants about accredited art programs. Students interested in comments or advice on their art portfolios are encouraged to bring with them several samples of recent art work to discuss with the college representatives. Information on Financial Aid and Meeting College Costs will also be provided.

Admission to the 'New England Art Careers/Portfolio Day' is free. Participants may register beginning at 10 a.m. at either the Museum School, 230 The Fenway, or the Massachusetts College of Art, 364 Brookline Ave. Schedules of panel discussions, maps and location of college representatives will be made available on registration.

For more information, contact Gene Ward, Director of Admissions at the Museum School, or Kay Ransdell, at the school.

New Energy

Electrical energy is being generated directly from the heat of tropical ocean currents, for the first time, on a barge off the island of Hawaii, Mass. Audubon tells us. Fifty thousand watts of electricity are produced of which 40,000 are needed to power the ocean thermal energy conversion machinery.

St. Robert Bellarmine Church of Andover will hold its annual New England Heritage Bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 17, in the parish hall from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. This annual fundraiser is open to the public.

This being the "Year of the Child," Rev. Jon C. Martin, associate pastor, and Mrs. Thomas J. Daley, chairman, are adding several features designed to appeal to the young.

One of the features of the Bazaar is the Clown Room, filled with more than 400 hand-made clown dolls in four different sizes. The clowns are the creation of Mrs. Jennie Sefick and Mrs. Gen Lemieux and their committee. In the past these clown dolls have sold out before lunch.

Other features for children are movies in the theatre; Mother Goose Roost, with toys, games and sports equipment; make your own button; Pop corn; and of course a visit with Santa. This year Santa's friend, Cookie Monster, will be passing out cookies, and parents are encouraged to bring their own camera for picture-taking.

The Colonial Village Motif features Sue Zembko's Bake Shoppe with a tantalizing assortment of home-made pies, cakes, breads, cookies, jam, preserves and pastries. Audrey Salava's sweet shoppe offers fudge, taffy, candy-apples and seasonal candy treats.

Rose Babine's craft booth displays a wide variety of hand crafted items. The plant table will offer an assortment of greenery to tempt the indoor gardener. Van and Mary Carroll's Christmas Shoppe will feature seasonal craft items, wreaths and hand-tooled Nativity Cribs. The Yarn Shoppe will offer many items of knitware produced by the ladies of the parish.

Browse around the Secondhand Shop, where Terry Pellicione has marked hundreds of items to please the bargain-minded. Also, visit Rita Bourgea's Book Stall for a wide variety of books, paperbacks, magazines, comic books and records.

The Village Inn will offer the busy shopper a chance to rest and enjoy refreshments ranging from coffee and a donut to meatball subs, chop suey, baked beans, hot dogs, hamburgers and drinks.

The Prize Pavilion offers such prizes as Toteable Black/White TV AC/DC or battery operated, wet-dry JetVac; bedspread and matching drapes, Stereo-record player with AM/FM radio-cassette 8 track, and many others.

Door prizes and hourly attendance prizes will be awarded, and there will be a variety of special table raffles on such items as a macrame planter, hand-made Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls.

For information call the rectory or the chairman.

Youth Group Issues Challenge

St. Augustine's Genesis Youth Group has challenged three other church youth groups in town to an Olympic Night on Sunday Nov. 11, at 7 p.m. in the old "Y" building on Brook Street.

Genesis would like to take the first step in combining efforts in the areas of Education and Service among the various youth groups in town. Sue Schwind, chairperson of Genesis' Education Committee, has organized the evening of competition as a way of breaking the ice. Genesis calls upon the youth of West Parish Church, St. Robert's Church and Faith Lutheran Church to accept the challenge.

Big Sur Folksinger In Concert Sunday

Ric Masten, folksinger/poet from Big Sur California, will be appearing Sunday evening, Nov. 11, at 8 p.m. at the North Parish Church (Unitarian Universalist) in North Andover.

In an evening jointly sponsored by the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, Masten explores all the journeys of life from the struggles of identity to the doubts of middle age (a current reality for him) to the issues of finality.

Masten once was a songwriter withing the MGM Los Angeles studios, making his living by turning out the hit songs of the late 50's that required little thought, and often less music. But, he was filled with both thought and music, and finally decided to make a life instead of a living, and headed for Big Sur where he built his house, worked as a laborer, and began to write his poems and songs. About 12 years ago he began a series of tours that has taken him to over 300 college campuses, as well as to all the major cities of North America.

His Sunday performance will be followed by an informal reception, providing time for personal interaction with Ric. The North Parish Church is located in the Old Centre of North Andover, on Massachusetts Avenue at Great Pond Road.

The Sengalese believe a coconut will not fall on anyone unless he has displeased the divine powers.

Charlotte Martin Honored

Charlotte Martin, of Main Street, Andover, was the guest of honor at a special dinner, Oct. 27, at the Unitarian Universalist Church.

Over 100 friends and relatives attended the dinner and "roast" to celebrate the life of one who has shared so much with so many. The church was the location of the party in honor of the 68 years that have passed since Charlotte first joined the Church of the Good Shepherd (Universalist) in Lawrence, which was the predecessor of the present Andover Church.

Under the direction of master of ceremonies, Peter Vail, a series of old and new friends joined Charlotte's sister Ruth, in taking a few humorous jabs at a beloved friend.

Mrs. Martin, a regular world traveler, met many of the people in Lawrence during her career in the personnel office of Arlington Mills. As it was aptly put during the evening, while the owners of the Mills had the money, Charlotte had the friends.

The honorary dinner was made possible by a committee of: Jill Gardner, Diddy Schoonover, Adeline Wright, Elizabeth Young, all of Andover; Mary Osgood and Edwin Craven of Methuen.

At the end of the evening, Mrs. Martin was presented with a special poster signed by all the attendees, and a special gift for her home.

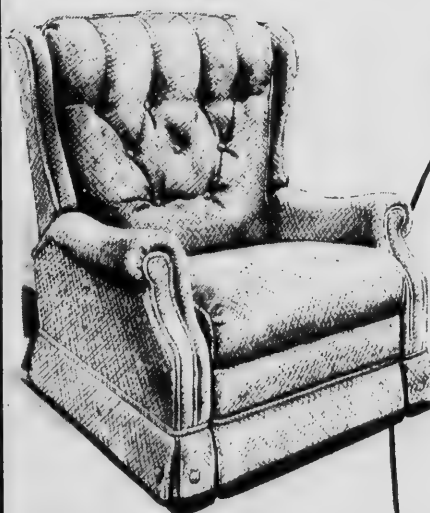

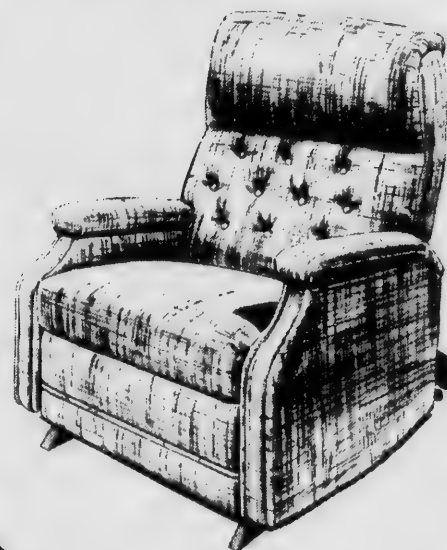

When the song "Happy Birthday To You" was written in 1893, it was first called "Good Morning To You."

New Concept In Visitors

The Boston Museum of fine Arts recently announced the commission and purchase of 31 pieces of handcrafted Contemporary American Furniture, to be used by visitors to the MFA. Designed by five prominent craftsmen from throughout the United States, the acquisitions have been made possible through a total of $30,000 in grants from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Gillette Corp., and the Deborah M. Noonan Foundation.

The use of the furniture for gallery seating in the Museum reflects a contemporary outlook on the value and quality of the work of living artists. Jonathan Fairbanks, Curator of the American Decorative Arts at MFA says, "The museum continues to build its collection. Works of fine quality are being produced by living artists, and we are able to affirm this by purchasing some of these works and putting them to use while we build out permanent collection."

According to Mr. Fairbanks, each craftsman represented in the exhibition brings to it an original, aesthetically engaging approach to the design of functional, utilitarian furniture. Glasser, former Raytheon corporate vice-president, will serve as director of the college's proposed Center for Business and Industry.

Through the Center, Glasser will work to develop a model whereby community colleges can respond effectively to the changing areas of economic vitality in the community. He will work to research and store information relevant to local labor market needs and training needs, and community economic development needs.

He plans to implement new educational programs and short-term training modules to meet the identified present and future needs of business and industry, develop training modules to maintain present job security, provide job advancement, provide, in-service training on technological advances, and re-train displaced employees; and to provide outreach and training programs to traditionally unemployable persons.

Glasser joined Raytheon in 1945 and held a wide variety of engineering, manufacturing and general management positions with the corporations. He was a corporate vice-president, manager of the Andover-Lowell Manufacturing Operation and manufacturing manager of Raytheon Company's Missile Systems Division. He retired in July 1979.

While serving from 1960 to 1967 as Waltham Operations Manager of Raytheon's Space and Information Systems Division, Glasser directed production of the guidance and navigation computers used in the Apollo and Lunar Module Spacecraft, as well as the guidance computers for the Polaris and Poseidon Missiles.

A graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute's Class in 1935, Glasser received the Institute's prestigious Robert H. Goddard Award in 1978 for "outstanding professional achievement." He is a graduate of Raytheon Advanced Management Program and was awarded an honorary doctor of science degree by the University of Lowell in 1973. In 1979, he received "The Outstanding Civilian Service Award" from the Department of the Army.

Glasser is a trustee of the Bon Secours Hospital, a corporator of Lawrence General Hospital and a director and vice-president of the Bon Secours-Lawrence General Joint Hospital Corporation. He is a trustee and corporator of the Lawrence Savings Bank, member of the board of directors of the Greater Lawrence Boy's Club, and trustee of Andover Memorial Library. In June, 1979, he was elected a trustee of Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Glasser also serves as a consultant to the U.S. Government.

In announcing the appointment, Dimitry said, "Joseph Glasser brings outstanding experience and expertise in business and industry to Northern Essex. We feel sure the under Glasser's guidance, Industry will become a vital factor in developing responsive interaction among community groups, business and industry and Northern Essex Community College. We are privileged to welcome so renowned an industrialist to our staff."

Glasser and his family live at 36 Sagamore Drive in Andover.

Colonial History Comes To Life

West Elementary fifth graders took a few steps back into history last month, with a trip to Sturbridge Village. They saw a colonial-type farm in action, walked through the early 19th century village and watched costumed workers busy at various crafts. Academy Students Commended

Eight local seniors at Phillips Academy, have been named Commended Students in the 25th annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

The local students and a number of Andover classmates placed among the top five percent of more than one million U.S.

high school students who took the qualifying test for the Merit Program as junior last spring.

The 35,000 Commended Students rank just below the Merit Program Semifinalists who will continue in the 1980 competition for Merit Scholarships; the high performance of Commended Students earns public recognition and referral to their preferred colleges.

The Commended Students are John Cavallaro of Methuen who last year won the Phillips Prize in Latin and the Goethe-Institute German Prize; James Deyo Jr. of North Andover who is the co-president of the Student Guide Organization; Paul Glazer of Haverhill; Peter Gravalles of Andover; Julie Hey of Andover, who is the president of the Day Student Council; Annajean Krump of Andover; Todd Peterson of Andover; David Weil of Andover and James A. Glynn of North Andover, who participated in the School Year Abroad Program in France last year.

Students Criticize Pay Raise

The TOWNSMAN was the recipient of a great influx of letters to the editor this week.

Over 20 letters were received, all dealing with the action of Congressman James Shannon in approving a congressional pay raise.

The letters were from an Andover High school Social Studies class as part of a project directed by John Curtin, teacher, who had asked the students to get in the habit of expressing personal views on any number of subjects. Letters from the sophomores were directed to other media, Curtin said.

In their letters, the students were critical of the action taken by Shannon and pointed out various reasons to substantiate their feelings.

It is impossible to publish the letters due to the number received, but the interest is appreciated. All properly carried signatures with addresses and telephone numbers.

Those who chose to write the TOWNSMAN included: Paul Reichert,

David Ivery, Mark Robichaud, Stephen Stabile, David W. Morrisse, Regina Fernandes, Larry Marocco, Scott Shupe, Michael Burke, Richard Jennings, Robyn A. Parker, David G. Cleary, Douglas A. Letch, Heidi C. Anderson, Mary E. Czapinski, Michael P. Fund Drive Lacking Support

The campaign to keep the famous Gilbert Stuart paintings of Martha and George Washington in Boston is nearly half way to goal, but so far not much help has come from Andover.

Norma Gammon, local chairman of the fund drive, said that more than a million dollars has been raised toward the $2.5 million needed from communities in the Commonwealth. The Museum of Fine Arts will also contribute $2.5 million toward the $5 million total purchase price of the paintings.

Gammon said she is a little disappointed in the local response to date, but said that residents have shown interest in the displays at Memorial Hall Library and the Andover Savings Bank.

She said donations can still be made out to the Commonwealth Cultural Preservation Trust, and mailed to her care of Town Hall, Andover.

The deadline for the drive is Dec. 31. If the money is not raised by then, the paintings will be moved to a new home at the Smithsonian in Washington, D.C.

Salter Is President

Town Clerk Elden Salter was elected president of the New England Association of City and Town Clerks and installed Oct. 4.

The function of the ten-year-old organization is to unify some clerking procedures among cities and town within states, and across state boundaries.

Testing Policy Conference

The Massachusetts Council of Teachers of English, the State's only professional society of English and language arts educators, will hold its annual one-day convention at the Christian Formation Center in Andover Wednesday, Nov. 14.

A rich variety of workshops and speakers will be offered around the convention theme of "Competency Plus" a theme chosen to reflect the Council's strong conviction that state and local minimum standards of competency must never become maximum competencies. If you are a teacher, student, parent, librarian, or school administrator concerned about the impact of competency testing on your school system, this convention is intended to provide reliable information and valuable models and suggestions for meeting this new challenge.

Sewer Vs. Country Club Decision Before Selectmen

The future of the Andover Country Club golf course was up for grabs again this week.

Town officials revealed to Selectmen Monday night that Developer Yvon Cormier now seeks sewerage for his entire around-the-course development above Lowell Street, in exchange for preservation of the course as open space.

While the proposal has thus far been informal, selectmen went into an hour-long session Monday night to discuss possible legal implications.

They had been told by Planning Board Chairman David Erickson and Public Works Director Robert McQuade that while the sewerage might enhance the proposed homes, the area is more suitable "than any other area in town" for subsurface septic systems.

Erickson said, that when the planning board approved definitive plans for the first phase of the development (along a new road that will run between Canterbury Street and Chandler Circle, parallel to Lowell Street) last August, Cormier indicated that about half of the first phase homes would be on sewer and half on septic. He said it would have been a relatively simple hookup to the town's gravity system in Shawsheen Highlands.

Erickson said the planners had no legal commitment that the golf course would remain open, only an indication that it might be sanctified in writing at some point and "perhaps for some consideration."

Now, Erickson said, Cormier asked informally for a sewer lift station so that the balance of the subdivision can be placed on sewer as well.

The golf course that's in the middle, represents some 110 acres of the 315 involved.

"He has said loud and clear," McQuade said of the developer, "that if we want the golf course, he wants the pumping station."

McQuade said the town's existing sewer system can handle the first phase, but is not adequate to handle it all. He said Cormier would pick up the cost of necessary improvements, but that eventually the town would be responsible.

McQuade added that soil in the area, "more than any other area in town," is conducive to on-site systems.

"I do not believe," Erickson added, "that they would lose any lots for failure to get subsurface systems."

The selectmen jumped to executive session to discuss "the potential matter of litigation," and are now seeking legal advice.

Selectman Susan Poore restated her concern over the potential "domino effect" of approving a lift station.

If the answer is yes, she said, every other developer would have the right to come in and request a pumping station, and home after home would begin popping up in mosquito bogs.

Erickson said that Cormier will be removing an enormous amount of earth from the site, but that trucks will be exiting on an extension of Canterbury Street up to Beacon Street instead of onto Lowell Street. He said he supposed they would head from there into Lawrence.

Selectmen, however, noted that there was not guarantee the trucks would turn right on Beacon, and that they could come back toward town and past an elementary school.

Erickson also said that Cormier is to begin the earth removal at the north end of the plot, clearing one area at a time, then seeding and planting before moving a step down toward Lowell Street. He said this will mean a minimal disruption to the town, and that it would "retain the natural hillside to the last possible moment."

With board members grimacing over loss of the glacial moraine, Erickson noted that the town had no "provision, no money" to buy the land. "He owns it," he said of Cormier, "and he has the right to develop it."

Educational Philosophy Accepted

An educational philosophy statement setting as a goal a diverse, challenging and responsive educational system in Andover, was accepted unanimously by the School Committee Tuesday.

The statement of philosophy was requested by school building project architects Perly F. Gilbert to help them plan the future use of the schools.

The curriculum, the statement said, emphasizes intellectual development, physical well being, development of positive social attitudes, and commitment to the arts.

And the system uses open and traditional classrooms, individual small-group and large group instruction to offer greater or lesser degrees of student freedom, the philosophy said.

"Our philosophy as educators," the statement said, "is to provide a school system in which individuals can achieve at their own maximum potential."

The system meets vocational and academic needs of students, according to the statement.

"First and foremost, however, it is our intention to provide for all our students a program which fosters individual growth so that all can become contributing members of society," was stated as the primary goal.

Lift Station Approved For Chemical Firm

Selectmen are expected to act Monday night on a permit for a sewer lift station at the Shawsheen Chemical Co. in Ballardvale.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark this week alleviated some of the selectmen's concerns that a favorable nod would set a precedent so they'd be expected to allow pumping stations for other industries in the future.

He said that after consulting with legal counsel, he felt that each future case should be judged on its individual merits, and that he would once again Monday recommend that the permit be granted to Shawsheen Chemical.

Editor Becomes Eligible For Campaign Trail

This week an exchange of memos regarding operations:

MEMO

To: Management
From: The Editor

For the past several years our fingers have virtually danced over the keyboard as we observe the actions of the Massachusetts State Legislature.

Without benefit of checking the scorecard, it is my opinion that we have heaped them with praise when warranted and offered criticism where merited.

This past week, as the legislature approved sweeping salary increases for itself and the administration, has led me to believe that all our efforts are for naught.

The salary increases, as you are aware, are beyond federal and state voluntary guidelines. They were pushed through in the dying moments of this legislative session, and, of course, must surpass that august body's tax cap decisions imposed on all cities and towns.

I have therefore taken some decisive action with regard to operations here, with regard to our salary structure.

I am doing this in view of having to spend many nights covering various meetings within the town and sometimes in other areas.

We all put in full days and weeks of work, not taking any extended summer sojourns, time off to campaign for continued employment, etc.

Having sleeplessly wrestled with these thoughts, last Saturday at 3 a.m., I signed salary increase approvals for all, and placed the authorization into the computer, there being no recourse once that action is taken.

This is done in full realization that unlike the legislature you cannot necessarily obtain the necessary funding from the general public, but since they obviously don't care, why should we.

This note is at least a courtesy to make you aware of the action since your continued interest in the bottom line on the P and L statement is a noble concern not necessarily shared by those in public life.

MEMO

To: The Editor
From: Management

Have you finally flipped completely?

We have in the past been most tolerant of your actions, but this is purely ridiculous.

We have constantly approved, although somewhat reluctantly, your vouchers for investigative reporting trips and continued education ventures, which really were nothing more than junkets.

We offered no objection, although not too pleased, with your decision to return to chauffeur driven vehicles to and from work.

When you took the cars we ordered for our security people and gave them to your own staff, we thought such action improper, but allowed it as a poor administrative decision on your part.

But this latest display of complete irresponsibility toward those for whom you are supposed to be working and helping, is a blatant display of disrespect.

Of course your no-cut contract still has three years to run, so there is nothing we can do about the matter at present.

We will, however, keep this in mind during negotiation on your contract in 1982, as well as your staff members who are to be considered in November of 1980.

Frankly, as matters stand, we have little recourse, other than to urge you to consider some state office with our complete support.

Your capricious and irresponsible actions suggest that you are more than qualified for service there and we would hope that you could one day join those who feel we, or the general public, are naive or don't really care what happens to our money.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — November 1904

Theodore Roosevelt has been chosen President by the greatest vote ever recorded in the country's history. A great personal victory is his by the results of Tuesday's voting, and the government is overwhelmingly Republican with him. In Andover, he polled 963 of 1129 ballots cast.

Franke Towle of Conway, N.H., has been spending a few days with his brother Fred Towle, the well-known barber.

There will be a Christmas tree loaded with yellow oranges at the Carnival in the town hall Dec. 2 which will be enjoyed alike by young and old.

Late Sunday afternoon, firemen put out a blaze in Carmel Park and had just returned to the firehouse when they were sent for again. The fires were without a doubt of incendiary origin.

Superintendent Smith of the board of public works has a gang of men putting in Mother Goose, the Old Woman who lived in a shoe, Bo Peep, Simple Simon, Little Jack Horner and many other childhood favorites were present at the South Church on Tuesday, invited there by the A.P.C. sorority to entertain a gathering which filled the vestry.

The new Electro-matic stop and go lights at the corner of Main and Chestnut Streets were put into commission for the first time Thursday night about 7 p.m. It is possible to adjust the mechanism so a machine coming from any direction when a red light is against it will throw the green light by means of running over a rubber mat in the roadway before the intersection.

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers paid generous tribute to the veterans of the World War at the memorial exercises held Sunday evening in the town hall under the auspices of Andover Post 8, American Legion.

Miss Agnes Moriarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Moriarty of High Street, who has been training to be a nurse at the children's hospital in Brookline, is working in the X-ray department.

Miss Margaret E. Ashley of Andover is a guest at the Dodge Hotel in Washington.

25 Years Ago — November 1954

Young men facing military service under the draft can now decide for themselves at what time and in which of the armed forces they will perform their required service, instead of waiting for their draft board to issue induction orders.

Arrangements to have Santa Claus arrive here with a big parade Dec. 4, and for another display of Christmas lights in the business section of Main Street were made by the Andover Board of Trade at a recent meeting at which Donald B. Look was again voted president.

Expansion of Phillips Academy in future years so the enrollment would be in proportion with the increasing population of the country was one of the topics of discussion at the recent fall meeting of trustees.

Reports of the United Fund campaign now going on show that the Andover division has collected upwards of $30,000 to date.

Fred E. Cheever announced that after servicing the town planning board for ten years, he will not be a candidate for reelection when his term expires next March.

Brennan May Resign Supreme Court;
Carter Appointee Should Be LiberalBy JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- President Carter may have the opportunity next year to appoint a Supreme Court justice. Unfortunately, it won't do much to defrost the Ice Age mentality of the Warren Burger Supreme Court or modify the chilling effect of four of Richard Nixon's men on the high tribunal.

Associate Justice William Brennan Jr. has signaled to intimates that he probably will bow off the bench after this term, creating a vacancy for Carter to fill. Carter's choice is expected to be far less rigid-minded than the Nixon nominees who now dominate the court.

Almost without exception, the Burger court has hacked away at the rights of the news media to be immune from the restrictive hand of government. An array of restrictive rulings has reflected the chief justice's own personal animosity toward the press. Burger shares the bitterness of Nixon who appointed him. He has referred to the reporters who cover the doings of his court as "a bunch of pipsqueaks." When New York Times reporter Myron Farber was jailed for contempt for refusing to turn over his confidential notes to a judge, Burger was elated.

Brennan, recognized as a brilliant and articulate jurist, has stood against the repressive Burger tendencies of the highest court in the land. Appointed by the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Brennan was an active opinion-moulder during the landmark era of the Warren court.

But with the coming of Burger, Brennan found himself an odd man out. Court sources tell us that the icy-mannered chief justice rarely allows Brennan to write opinions even when he's on the majority side and assigns him only the dullest of cases.

This they say is a major factor in Brennan's decision to withdraw from Burger's judicial deep freeze.

Another Horror? The world was horrified last year with the ghoully tragedy in the South American country of Guyana when cult leader Jim Jones ordered his disciples to gun down five visiting Americans, including U.S. Rep. Leo Ryan, and then led 900 of his followers into mass suicide.

Now we've learned that an equally rabid American cult leader is flourishing in the jungle undergrowths of Guyana. He has assumed the name of Edward Emmanuel Washington. His real name is David Hill, a bail jumper from Cleveland, Ohio, where he was convicted of corporate blackmail eight years ago.

The 50-year-old fugitive from justice has set up a black supremacist group called the House of Israel. Hill goes by the title of rabbi but claims to be an incarnation of God.

He has gathered about him a band of fanatical followers, most of them unmarried. They have been persuaded to die on his command.

Disturbingly, the cult supports the Guyanese government of Prime Minister Forbes Burnham, who has a dictatorial bent. Some who have spoken out against Burnham's corrupt regime have been assaulted by Hill's bullyboy followers. There have been fearful reports of government opponents being beaten with iron bars, sticks, and stabbed by knife-wielders.

The State Department is "very concerned about Mr. Hill's activities," but a spokesman explained: "The Guyanese government is really responsible for taking any legal action against him."

Dry Economy: Labor Secretary Ray Marshall survived Jimmy Carter's Cabinet shakeup but the president's new tight-money policy may prove too much for the affable, well-liked Marshall to stomach.

He is complaining privately that Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker and Carter's financial advisers are launched on an anti-inflation course that will cast American workers to the sharks. Volcker and Treasury Secretary William Miller espouse a tight-credit policy that most economists predict will dry up the inflated economy and create widespread unemployment.

The only recourse labor unions have is to demand inflationary wage settlements to keep pace with double-digit inflation. Volcker and Miller, weekly breakfast companions, are striving to keep the president on their side of the fence.

If Carter loses the popular Marshall as a result, he may wind up with organized labor going all out for Teddy Kennedy in the battle for the upcoming Democratic presidential nomination.

Under the Dome: Carter and the other two participants in the Camp David Mideast peace summit are facing uneasy futures. While Carter is confronted with an uphill fight to win re-election, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin has sustained a rebuff from his Supreme Court on settlements in the lands seized from the Arabs and the desertion of his best-known Cabinet member, Moises Dayan.

Egypt's Anwar 'Sadat is also enmeshed in domestic troubles. Secret Cabinet minutes from the White House disclose that Carter's emissary Robert Strauss brought back a message from Begin urging the United States to rush more economic help to Sadat.

Strauss told the Cabinet meeting that the economic problems facing Egypt were "very complex and that American involvement in the economic support of Egypt would be critical to its long-term future."

Picking Up Yardage

Mel Berger picks up a few yards before getting halted by Lawrence defenders during Andover High's 20-6 win Sunday at Lovely Field. Paul Bruk (65) and Mike Chiklis (33) lend some blocking assistance. The Golden Warriors go after their sixth win of the season at Chelmsford Saturday afternoon.

Nardone, Berger Keep Warriors Hot

By Rick Harrison

Andover High, the hottest football team in the Merrimack Valley Conference at this moment, stretched its winning streak to five games last Sunday with a come-from-behind 20-6 conquest of Lawrence High at Lovely Field.

Dave Nardone chalked up a pair of touchdowns, while Mel Berger added one, all on short yardage bursts.

The triumph hike the Golden Warriors' record to 5-2-0 in the Conference and 5-3-0 overall.

Coach Dick Collins' crew is back in the thick of the MVC title race, thanks to their own talents and some help from Tewksbury which upset previously-undefeated Dracut 20-14 last weekend.

Andover is now one game behind first place Dracut with two games remaining. The Middies are 6-1-0, Tewksbury 5-1-1, Andover 5-2-0, Chelmsford 4-2-1 and Wilmington 4-2-1 in the congested standings.

The Warriors travel to Chelmsford this Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p.m., and wrap up the 1979 campaign Thanksgiving morning at Veterans Stadium against Central Catholic.

Dracut still must contend with Wilmington this week and Methuen on Thanksgiving, while Tewksbury and Wilmington will collide when the turkey is in the oven.

Should Collins manage to grab at least a share of the title, it will be his sixth in 21 years at Andover.

The win over Lawrence was the 90th in MVC play for Collins, now 90-27-5 overall in the Conference and 125-63-10 including all games.

In addition, the triumph against the Lancers assured the Warriors their 15th season with a .500 or better record in the last 16 years.

The scoreless second quarter featured just one threat, but Molloy ended it by intercepting a Walsh pass intended for Berger in the endzone.

Walsh also had another aerial picked off earlier in the stanza, meant for Lacourse, while Andover cornerback Bruce Turgiss returned the favor by swiping an option toss by Molloy on the final play on the half.

Berger Delivers

The Golden Warriors gained some breathing room with a touchdown on their first possession of the second half.

The winners drove 55 yards in six plays following a short 10-yard punt kby the Lancers' Tom Fritch.

The swift Berger got things off to a flying start with a flashy 29 yard run, and moments later a double personal foul penalty against Lawrence advanced the ball to the Lancers' seven.

Nardone and junior Mike Chiklis gained three yards apiece, bringing the ball to the one, but on third down the center snap was fumbled and recovered by Walsh.

That set up a fourth and goal from the one, with Berger sweeping wide right for the six-pointer.

A poor snap foiled the conversion attempt, but AHS still enjoyed a 13-6 lead midway through the third period.

Lancers Threaten

Lawrence took the subsequent kickoff and mounted a drive that carried over to the fourth period, marching from its own 20 yard line to the Warriors' three in 16 plays.

Lonardo completed six of eight passes to account for most of the 77 yards, finding Bell three times for 31 yards and Molloy on three occasions for 22 yards.

Molloy also rambled 15 yards on a draw play, and chewed up 24 yards altogether in six carries.

On second down at the Andover 11, Lonardo drilled a pass to the usually sure-handed Molloy who dropped the ball at the two.

Lonardo went right back to Molloy slanting from right to left for an eight yard gain, gut on fourth-and-1 from the three Ken Hyslip deflected a Lonardo pass to end the drive.

Wrapping It Up

Dave Nardone punted Andover out of trouble a short time later, and free safety Lacourse produced his sixth pass interception of the season at the Andover 36 yard line to stall Lawrence once again.

A roughing-the-punter penalty on Steve Zahn enabled the Golden Warriors to retain possession with less than four minutes to play.

A 17 yard pass to junior Bob Heidt, along with a nine yard end-around run by Lacourse, got the ball to the Lancers' 20.

Molloy then came up with his second interception of the afternoon on another pass meant for Lacourse, giving the Lancers new life at their own 18 yard line with 1:29 to play.

Lonardo went to the air immediately, but defensive back Guy Nicholas intercepted at the Lawrence 29 to set up the final AHS touchdown.

The key play was a 22 yard scamper by Nardone, and he eventually plowed over from the two yard line for his third TD of the season.

Reilly toed the point for a 20-6 lead with just 23 seconds left.

Statistics

The team stats were pretty even down the line, with Andover holding slim edges in yards rushing (99-97), yards passing (121-105) and total yardage from scrimmage (220-202).

Lawrence was tops in first downs (10-9) and scrimmage plays (61-46), but the Lancers hurt themselves with 104 yards in penalties.

Nardone paced the AHS rushing parade with 55 yards in eight carries, while Berger added 31 yards in eight totes.

Stamas was the top receiver for the Warriors, hauling down two passes for 50 yards including one that covered 44 yards.

Molloy was virtually the whole Lawrence offense, accounting for 150 yards. He rushed for 89 yards in 25 carries, and caught six passes for another 61 yards.

Lonardo completed 12-of-23 passes and was sacked once by Noel Pizarro for a 12 yard loss.

Walsh, who sustained a mysterious and deep cut on his right hand during the opening minute of the game, hit 6-of-18 passes and was sacked just once himself by Bell on the game's first play.

Injuries

Walsh and Nardone suffered similar gashes during the contest, but both played the entire game and will be set for Chelmsford.

Junior defensive back and special teams' performer Wayne Merola, sidelined with a broken bone in his hand since the Tewksbury game, may be back this week.

Chelmsford

The Lions have proven themselves to be human this season, losing to Dracut (12-6) and Tewksbury (14-13).

They are fresh off a 14-14 tie against Wilmington, while victories have come at the expense of Lowell High (6-0), Methuen (18-6), Lawrence (3-0 on a fieldgoal with eight seconds left), Austin Prep (26-6) and Central (34-0).

Coach Tom Caito's team shared the MVC title in 1977, won it outright enroute to a 10-0-0 regular season in 1978, and competed in last December's Eastern Mass. Division II Super Bowl where it lost to Catholic Memorial, 13-8.

Despite the fact they have won only one of their last four starts (1-2-1), the Lions are 28-3-2 over the most recent 33 games.

The somewhat inconsistent offense is led by running backs Mark Harrington and Ken Sorenson, both of whom have rushed for close to 700 yards. Sorensen, however, has an arm injury and will probably not play this Saturday.

The defense has produced three shutouts and held two other opponents to one touchdown.

Dolphins Edge Toward Title

By Chris O'Reilly

The defending champion Bancroft Dolphins will try to make it two titles in a row on Sunday against the Central Colts in a game that was rained out earlier in the year. In the games Sunday the Indian Ridge Vikings struggled past the West Andover Redskins 6-0 and the Bancroft Dolphins pounded the Central Colts 25-0.

Bancroft Dolphins 25 Central Colts 0

The Dolphins explosive backfield combined with their tough defense which hasn't allowed a point since the first game, proved to be too much for the winless Colts. The Dolphins are now 4-1 while the Colts are at a 0-4-1 clip.

The Colts put the ball in at their own 40 after Dean LoPresti's kick and couldn't move it. The Colts punted on a fourth and long and the punt was partially blocked and the Dolphins had great field position at the Colt 45. From there behind the stong running of Alan Long they moved the ball down to the Colt three. Dolphin Q.B. Dean LoPresti, ran it in from there and Eric DeLoury's conversion made it Dolphins 7, Colts 0.

The Colts put the ball in at their own 45 but quickly fumbled the ball away to the Dolphins at the Colt 43. Alan Long ran for a first down to the Colt 29 and behind runs by Robert Nelson and Eric DeLoury moved it to the Colt 13 as the quarter ended. From there the Colts toughened up and took over at their own eight. The Colts couldn't move at all and had to punt. Dean LoPresti fielded the punt at the Colt 20 and ran it down to the one before being brought down. Eric DeLoury bolted over from there and the Dolphins led 13-0.

Dean LoPresti's booming kick put the Colts in terrible field position at the Colt 27. The Dolphins held the Colts and took over at the Colt 39 but time ran out before any scoring threat could be established.

The Dolphins put the ball in play at their own 36 and on the second play from scrimmage Mark Polakow rambled 62 yards to paydirt. The PAT failed and the Dolphins led 19-0.

The Colts put the ball in at their own 47 after the kick and moved down to the Dolphin 37 before being stopped. Dolphin back John Regan rambled to the Colt 21 before being brought down. The Colts stopped the Dolphins at their own 13 but fumbled it back to the Dolphins as the quarter came to a close.

The Dolphins having a first and 10 at the Colt 15 and moved it to the Colt three from where Dean LoPresti took it. The conversion failed and the Dolphins led 25-0.

The Dolphins started another drive but time ran out on them. Leading the Dolphin offense were: Anthony Scioli, Robert Nelson, Alan Long and Dean LoPresti. Starring on the Bancroft defense were Rex Lynch, Scott Grant, Paul Gilmartin and Eric DeLoury.

Sparking the Colt offense were: Eric Pfofi, Chris Bartley, Matt Aumais, Robbie Carpentier. Leading their defense were Richard Nipolitano, Robert Manning, Beau Jones and Bob Ditroia.

Indian Ridge Vikings 6 West Andover 0

In a closer game than what might have been expected the Vikes outlasted the Skins 6-0. The Vikes put the ball in at their own 43 and tried to go to the air immediately, but Redskin defensive back S.K. Kelley took it at the Redskin 46. The Redskins couldn't move the ball, as was much the case in this defensive struggle, and had to punt. Punter Kevin Rourke put off a bazarian punt to the Vike 29 where the Vikes took over. Vike Back Jim Stelzer ran up to the Redskin 41 but the Vikes fumbled the ball away there. Behind the running of Mike Redgate and Bob Salisbury the Vikings moved the ball to the Redskin 16 but were stopped there as the period ended.

The Redskins opened up the second quarter with a first and ten at their own 15 but fumbled it away. The Vikes couldn't capitalize on the golden opportunity and turned the ball over to the Redskins at the Redskin ten. The Skins started to move and moved up to midfield, but the half ended before they could score.

The respective team B squads came in for the third quarter and the Redskins opened it up with a first and ten at their own 31. On a fourth and short the Vikes recovered a fumble at the Redskin 41. Penaltys moved the Vikes back and the Redskins took over at the Vike 45. Ray Rourke ran down to the Vike 29 for the Redskins but couldn't put the ball into the end zone as the Vikes took over at their own 35 as the quarter ended with the score 0-0.

The Vikes started a long drive behind running of Jim Stelzer getting first downs at the Redskin 47, 23 and then moving the ball to the Skin two. From there fullback Mike Redgate ran it in for his first touchdown this year. Jim Stelzer scored the PAT but it was called back by a penalty and on the second try the Vikes were successful.

Standings

	W-L-T
Vikings	4-1-1
Dolphins	4-1-0
Redskins	2-4-0
Colts	0-4-1

The Redskins hopes of tying it up were shattered as Tim Perry intercepted a pass with three plays remaining for the Vikes. Leading the Vikes offense were John Perry, Tim Perry, Mike Redgate, Steve Redgate, Bob Salisbury and Richard Bourdelais. Starring on the Vike defense were Mike Sleath, Jim Stelzer, Sparky White and Peter Derbo.

Sparking the Redskin offense were Bill Lane, Tom Majereson, Mark Doherty and Kyle Marcella. Starring for the Redskin defense were Scott Kelly, Mark Patti, Greg Hopwood and Ron Peck.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

The Andover Soccer Association's fall program ended last weekend. The heavy rains on Saturday forced cancellation of all the games and most of the final games were played on Sunday. Coaches are urged to turn in their equipment as soon as possible to 4 Midland Circle (A. McAnally's residence). Incidentally, please check if you have any missing items; a quick call to Mr. McAnally will confirm if he has it amongst the multitude of paraphernalia accumulated during the season.

Brief results of Sunday's games follow below. We will see you all back in this column next Spring.

Division 1 (3/4 grade Boys)

Express 1 — Lancers 1

In an exciting re-match, both teams made many attempts to score throughout the game but great defense denied all efforts. Both teams were awarded a penalty shot, successfully completed by Jason Tucker for the Express and Tom Cioffi for the Lancers, and the game ended in a hard fought tie. BOW: Coaches Tucker, Angelos and Weaver, and Sandra Edwards (Express) as well as Coaches McGrail, Smith, Hanley and Rogers, and Kim Kalfelz (Lancers).

Diplomats 3 — Sounders 2

The Diplomats controlled the first two quarters of play, during which they scored three goals (Steve Mencis (2), one on a pass from Andy Shea, and Gabe Bruno). The embattled Sounders came back stronger in the third and fourth quarters, controlled much of the play and booted in two goals (Steve Napolitano (2), one on a pass from Ian Anderson), although they were still one down at the final whistle. BOW: Coaches Anuff and Lebreck, and Susan Napolitano (Sounders) as well as Coaches Mencis, Devaney and Shea, and Gail Dow (Diplomats).

Drillers 3 — Aztecs 1

With no goals in the first two quarters, both teams worked very hard in the third and fourth quarter to get the ball into the nets. The Drillers succeeded in scoring three goals (Jeff Shapiro, John Russell on passes by Doug Bleszinski and Bob Hughes, and Doug Bleszinski on a pass by Bob Hughes) whilst holding the Aztecs to one booted in by Stephen McSweeney, and they won the points. BOW: Coaches Lewis, Sampson and Leinson, and Kay Grace (Drillers) as well as Coaches Newcomb, Pothier, Caruso and Banzl, and Charles Friese (Aztecs).

Cosmos 4 — Kicks 1

The Cosmos strikers were anxious to score goals in their game with the Kicks and they succeeded in booting in four (Thatcher Worthen on a pass from Kevin Newman, Brian Donnellan, Jim Reagan, Peter Kannam). The spirited Kicks were held to one scored by Paul VanDerWiden. BOW: Coaches Graff, Newman and Dorsey, and Susan Conforti (Cosmos) as well as Coaches Stella, Faraci and Bernard, and Marilyn Carriere (Kicks).

Beacons 1 — Kicks 1

The Kicks scored in the first quarter (Billy-Ernesto Martin) to take an early lead. The Beacons played a strong second quarter and they tied it up when Joshua Malitsky booted in the ball. Both teams worked hard for the winning goal, unsuccessfully, and both teams split the points. BOW: Coaches Penney, Fater, Knight and Corbett, and Andrea Kalil (Beacons) as well as Bobby Antonucci, Robert Ashworth, Tres Fromme and Paul McCarthy (Kicks).

(3/4 Grade Girls)

Surfs 1 — Otters 0

Great defensive play by both teams denied the many attempts to score until the final quarter when Debbie Williams booted the ball into the Otters' nets, winning the points for her team. BOW: Coaches Williams, DiClemente and Hunt, and Marie Sanchez (Surfs) as well as Coaches Wilkins and Horton, and Gail Burke (Otters).

Seals 1 — Dolphins 0

The Dolphins were challenged by the Seals throughout much of the game and only great defensive tactics held the Seals to the one goal booted in by Hallie Keene in the first quarter. BOW: Coaches Puglia and Goldman, and Gayle Keene (Seals) as well as Coaches Lowe, Coburn and Karp, and Natalie Beigel (Dolphins).

Division 2 (5/6 Grade Boys)

Wolves 4 — Jaguars 0

In a re-match with the Wolves, the Jaguars found the competition much tougher and on this occasion they found

BOW: Coaches DeLeire, McDonough, Leinson, Moriarty, and Stuart Leinson and Joy DuHadway (Pumas) as well as Coaches DiClemente and Faust, and Dorothy Har-dock (Bruins).

Lions 1 — Leopards 0

BOW: Coaches O'Brien, Lascher and Dorsey, and Carol Young (Lions) as well as Coaches Murphy, Ast-bury and Desruisseau, and Ann Grecoe (Leopards).

Cougars 3 — Foxes 1

The Cougars took an early lead with two goals in the first quarter (Chris Gully, one on a pass by Michael Avella) and in-creased it to three when Matt Shine scored on a pass by Greg Tormey. BOW: Coaches Neaves, Plamondon and Gully, and Dot Driscoll (Cougars) as well as Coaches McDowell, Sampson and Lavin, and Val Knight (Fox-es).

Tigers 3 — Bobcats 1

Phillips Academy's Athletic Complex under construction.

To Dedicate New P.A. Athletic Complex Saturday

Phillips Academy will dedicate its new athletic complex Saturday morning, Nov. 10, before the 99th annual Andover-Exeter football game. Invited guests include donors of units of this Bicentennial Campaign project, alumni with a special interest in athletics, and the heads of various community organizations to whom the Academy has extended its athletic facilities for many years.

The new complex, the first architectural expression of coeducation at PA, was created by renovation and by adding new construction to existing athletic facilities; by opening up spectators' and athletes' view and access to activity areas through new windowed ramps and corridors; and by connecting the two renovated and the one new gymnasium areas to the hockey rink and fieldhouse with an overhead pedestrian bridge.

Although the girls' and women's locker rooms, visiting team rooms and dance space have been prime objectives since the 200-year-old school became coeducational in 1973, the Complex was designed not just "to add girls' facilities" but to be a truly coeducational athletic center: to serve the needs and expand facilities for the entire school community — students and faculty, boys and girls — for years to come, and to continue to extend these facilities to town organizations.

Another local connection: the principal architect for the PA Athletic Complex is Kenneth DiNisco of DiNisco Associates, Inc., who was architect for renovation of Andover's Shawsheen and Doherty Elementary Schools several years ago. It was because academy officials were impressed by DiNisco's imaginative renovation of these older buildings for the Town of Andover, that DiNisco was among the architects competing for the contract. Martin Kretsch is the project architect, and the contractor is A. J. Martini, Inc., of West Medford.

In the new complex, old Borden Gymnasium, built in 1902, once more becomes the centerpiece of the athletic facilities, flanked on one side by the World War II Memorial Gymnasium, dedicated in 1951, and on the other side by the new Abbot Academy wing, whose groundbreaking occurred a year and a half ago, during the Phillips Academy 178th Bicentennial Celebration. Borden Gym, with its handsome wooden beams and ballustrated mezzanine, will now house the athletic department offices; half of it will feature an open vertical space for use as an exercise room, with ropes, rings and cargo net and a mezzanine viewing area; the other half, above the offices, will feature a new mezzanine dance studio, principally for ballet.

From the Borden Gym area, a wide passageway sided with large areas of glass passes straight through the complex, overlooking on the one side the gymnastics, wrestling and dance spaces of the new Abbot Academy Wing, and on the other side overlooking the swimming pool through windows in what used to be a blank brick wall.

The lower level of the Abbot Academy wing houses the new girls' and women's locker rooms and showers, with modern equipment. Also at the Complex's lower level are the coaches' and trainers' quarters, the Bicentennial Campaign gift of several Andover alumni and parents in honor of PA trainer John "Jake" Bronk, recently deceased, and his wife Helen. At the rear of the buildings, the passageway from Borden turns either into a ramp toward the ground and bus parking areas or onto the curving transparent pedestrian

Andover Hockey Association

Danvers League

Andover 3, Danvers 4

Andover dominated throughout, playing most of the game in the Danvers zone, but still came away with a loss. Andover put pressure on Danvers all through the first period, with lines of Donovan, Nelligan, Alden, McCabe, Neaves, Forbes, and Berberian — Riddiford — Sapuppo all creating good chances, but Danvers held off all scoring bids.

The in the second period, Danvers opened the scoring on a quick breakout. A few minutes later Mark Neaves tied the score with an unassisted goal.

Early in the third period Kyle McCabe put Andover ahead with another unassisted goal. But Danvers responded a few minutes later with another breakout and the tying goal, and with about two minutes to play repeated, to go up by one. Within another minute Mark Neaves and Kyle McCabe tied it up again, when Mark rifled a pass in front from the boards and Kyle drove it home. Andover then put on exceptional pressure in an attempt to get the tiebreaking score, but once again Danvers got a quick breakout and got the winning goal.

WJH Soccer Tops EJH, 5-1

Andover West Junior High's Soccer Team finished a very successful season with a 5-1 win over crosstown rival East Junior High. Greg Batten led West with two goals while Steve Carbone, Brandon Bachnor and Dean Weaver each helped out with single tallies.

Halfbacks Dan Boland, Marc Boland and Dan Kimball each played a fine game supporting both the front line and the defense. Defenders Todd Lockwood, David Collins and Rob Retelle, along with keeper Brian Bedell played well, allowing only one goal by East's Zack Apgar.

West's season ended with a 7 and 1 record. Their only loss was to the Greater Lawrence Vocational School. The team's defense was outstanding, only allowing five goals in eight games. No opponent scored more than one goal in a game. Keeper Brian Bedell had two shutouts while backup Dean Lockwood accounted for the other one of the team's three shutouts. A total of 38 goals were scored, for a 4.7 goals scored per game average, was widely distributed with 14 players scoring one or more goals.

Other members of this year's soccer team are John Baer, David Bates, Chris Egan, Bob French, John Hevehan, Tom Maginnis, Glen McAnally, Alvin Ohlenbusch, Dan Poore, John Thompson, Julian Dolby, Dana Klay, Steve McDowell and Scott McNamara.

bridge to the hockey rink and Case Memorial Cage.

The Case Cage, the first section of the Athletic Complex to be completed, was renovated with an "Andover Blue" polyurethane multipurpose floor appropriate for track, basketball, baseball, lacrosse, volleyball, tennis, dance, musical and theatrical performances or town meetings. It was completed in January, 1978, in time to accommodate the performances and festivities of the Academy's 200th year celebration.

PA Athletic Director Joseph Wennik has coordinated the academy's plans with the architects and contractor and directed athletic department activities without gyms and locker rooms in the interim. He noted that the school community had "made do" admirably since giving up the facilities last April, with boarding students sharing dorm rooms and showers with day students for changing. He expects that shortly after the Nov. 10 dedication the academy will have full use of its new athletic complex for students and faculty and will continue to share athletic facilities with the community organizations that have had access in the past. These include the Andover public schools, YMCA, the Town of Andover recreation department, Pike School, the Andover Little League, the Andover Skating Club, the Andover Raquets Club, the Andover Tennis Club, the Boy Scouts, the Easter Seal Society and, upon memorable occasions, the town of Andover as a whole, for town meetings. Dedication of the Athletic Complex will begin at 10 a.m. The Andover-Exeter football game will be played at Exeter, N. H., beginning at 1:45 p.m.

Spartans 1 — Grizzlies 1

In an exciting re-match which delighted the many spectators, both teams battled for control of the ball as they ran up and down the field trying to get it into the nets. The Spartans scored in the first quarter (Andy Glaser on a pass by Ken Crawford and David Keene) and with a goal credited to the Grizzlies in the final quarter, both teams split the points. BOW: Coaches Casey and Novelline, and Gayle Keene and Eric Penny for some magnificent saves in goal (Spartans) as well as Coaches Hevehan and Webster, and Ruth Shapiro (Grizzlies).

Apollos 1 — Rams 0

The Apollos had to work hard to win the points in their re-match with the Rams.

Both teams made numerous shots on the nets throughout the game, all of them unsuccessful until the final minutes of play when Gary Bachinsky booted the ball into the Rams nets, and the Apollos won another hard fought victory against the spirited Rams. BOW: Coaches Ostrowski and McParland, and Mary Hobbs (Apollos) as well as Coaches Bates and Alden, and Bert Shupe (Rams).

(7/9 Grade Girls)

Fury 2 — Gators 1

All three goals were scored in the first quarter (Mary Oppel and Lisa Marcella on a pass by Judy MacDonald for the Fury and Susanne Curley on a pass by Jana Caldwell for the Gators). After this display of fancy footwork, the game settled down and much of the action took place in the midfield. The Gators tried to even it up, unsuccessfully, and the Fury posted up another win. BOW: Coaches Curley and Smith, and Carol Caldwell (Gators) as well as Coaches Bainbridge and Lascher, and Joan MacDonald (Fury).

School Plans

Under the three 5-3-4 options presented in the report, all called for closing East Junior High.

Under the first, Shawsheen School would be closed, and the elementary students would be housed in Bancroft, Doherty, Sanborn and South, with one of them getting a 200-seat addition. West Elementary would be made into a junior high school, and the high school would get a 400-seat addition.

Another option called for leaving Shawsheen open and using West Elementary as a junior high. Again, the high school would get a 400-seat addition.

The third scheme would close Shawsheen and add 200 seats to either Bancroft, Doherty, Sanborn or South and use it as a junior high.

The school building committee and the architects are not limited to the schemes presented in the preliminary report, just to the grade organizations voted by the school committee.

The school building committee is scheduled to meet tonight to accept the decision of the school committee and to give instructions to the architects about exploring the grade alternatives.

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann said the important characteristics needed from the school building program are flexibility and meeting the educational and developmental needs of the students.

She said it was the aim of the school committee to be able to close one school by 1985 if possible.

Sweaters

A light, long-sleeved sweater equals almost two degrees in added warmth; a heavy, long-sleeved sweater adds about 3.7 degrees; and two light weight sweaters add about five degrees in warmth because the air between them serves as insulation to keep in more body heat.

Earnings, Sales Up At Gillette

Sales and earnings of The Gillette Company rose in the third quarter and for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1979, Colman M. Mockler, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer, said today.

Sales for the three months ended Sept. 30, 1979 were $505,111,000, compared with $426,485,000 for the same period in 1978, an increase of 18 percent. Pretax income was $45,568,000, an increase of 12 percent from $40,545,000 in 1978. Consolidated net income was $25,227,000, an increase of 10 percent from $22,847,000 in the same period last year. Earnings per share of $.84 compared with $.76 a year earlier.

For the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1979, sales rose 16 percent to $1,446,157,000, compared with $1,242,386,000 in 1978. Pretax income was $153,022,000, up 17 percent from $131,288,000 for the same period in the prior year. Consolidated net income was $86,802,000, an increase of 22 percent from $70,958,000 in 1978. Earnings per share of $2.88 compared with $2.36 the year before.

Sales and operating profits of Gillette North America in the third quarter were will above those of the prior year. For the nine months, sales and operating profits were above last year.

Gillette International's sales were well ahead in the quarter and operating profits were slightly higher. For the nine months Gillette International had sharply higher sales, and operating profits were well above the same period in 1978.

Sales of the Braun group were sharply higher in the quarter and an operating profit was recorded compared with an operating loss in the prior year. For the nine months, sales and operating profits were above last year.

Gillette International's sales were well ahead in the quarter and operating profits were slightly higher. For the nine months Gillette International had sharply higher sales, and operating profits were well above the same period in 1978.

Sales of the Braun group were sharply higher in the quarter and an operating profit was recorded compared with an operating loss in the prior year. For the nine months, sales and operating profits were sharply higher than the same period in 1978.

Mockler said that consolidated profit from operations rose 18 percent in the quarter and 16 percent for the nine months, compared with the same periods last year.

The effective tax rate in the quarter was higher than last year due to special tax adjustments. As a result of discussions with the U. S. Internal Revenue Service, relating to additional income taxes proposed in the revenue agents' reports for the years 1970 to 1973, a provision has been made in the third quarter for estimated federal and state taxes, and interest thereon, for the years covered by the reports and for all subsequent years. Certain deferred taxes in the United Kingdom, relating to "stock relief," were recognized as income in the third quarter, in accordance with U.K. legislation enacted in that quarter. The net effect of these two tax adjustments reduced earnings per share for the quarter and for the nine months by 8 cents. The effective tax rate for the nine months was lower than last year.

Exchange losses in the quarter were higher than last year and were level for the nine months. Net interest costs were higher in the quarter but lower for the nine months.

At its meeting today, the Board of Directors declared a quarterly dividend of 43 cents per share payable Dec. 5, 1979 to stockholders on record on Nov. 1, 1979.

Harbor Equity Funds introduces an innovative second mortgage arrangement with unique advantages for you, the borrower.

Interest-Only Payments.

A very practical idea in inflationary times - but one which is usually not available. Your monthly payment during the term of the loan is of interest only - the full amount of the principal is due only at the end of the term of the loan. As a practical matter, this means your monthly payment will be lower than alternative lending arrangements, and each payment is totally tax deductible.

And with continuing inflation, just as your property has increased in value, the value of

Dr. Albert Galaburda, Beth Israel neurologist

Reading Disorder Associated With Brain Structure

Researchers have shown for the first time that dyslexia, the common reading disorder, may be related to specific abnormalities in the anatomy of the brain.

In the first close study of the brain of a dyslexic person, Beth Israel neurologist Albert M. Galaburda, MD of Andover and colleague Thomas L. Kemper, MD, discovered abnormal cell structure in the areas of the brain which control language function.

The reading disability has been recognized for nearly 100 years, but its cause has remained a mystery. "Dyslexia has been thought to be a psychological problem, but it is really a neurological abnormality," says Dr. Galaburda. "Our study shows for the first time that there are actual differences in the anatomy of the brain of a dyslexic person."

The study, published in the Annals of Neurology, found striking abnormalities in the layers of cells in the left cerebral hemisphere, where language functions are thought to be located.

In the area designated "Tpt," many small convolutions, polymicrogyria, were found. The cortex, the cerebral mantle of the brain, normally consists of layers of cells arranged in an organized pattern. In the brain examined, however, the layers of cells were completely disorganized. Moreover, cells were present in the most superficial layer of the cortex where they are usually absent, and islands of cortical tissue were found unexpectedly in the white matter of the brain.

The Tpt area is normally larger in the left cerebral hemisphere than in the right, but in this dyslexic brain, both sides were of equal size. "These findings... lend support to the notion that language-relevant areas in the brains of patients with developmental dyslexia may be small in the two cerebral hemispheres," said the authors in their paper.

There were other abnormalities found throughout the left hemisphere, but they were less severe. No abnormalities were found in the right hemisphere.

These observations were made by studying the brain of a 20-year-old accident victim who had been diagnosed with developmental dyslexia when he started elementary school at age six. His birth and early development had been normal, but his speech was delayed and he had difficulties with reading and spelling from the first grade on. Although he was of average intelligence and had a maturation level and cultural background sufficient to master reading and mathematics, he continued to perform below expectations. At age 18, he had skills at the fourth-grade level.

Typical of others diagnosed with dyslexia, the individual had a family history of the problem, with both father and three brothers who were also slow readers. He was left-handed, as were his father and brothers; he had difficulty discriminating between right and left sides; and he was judged to be clumsy since childhood. The one trait he did not share with other dyslexics was that he developed seizures at age 16.

The landmark findings in the brain were revealed only after the special technique of cytoarchitectonics (literally, the way cells are arranged) was applied. Upon visual examination and routine neuropathological study, the brain appeared normal. But serial sections of the whole brain studied microscopically revealed abnormalities not seen before.

Cytoarchitectonics is a technique known to only a few researchers in the world. Introduced in the 1880's in Germany, it was used at first to study the organization of the cortex. The Vogt Institute was a leading German research center using this technique, but during World War II, Dr. Oscar Vogt and his wife fell into political disfavor and were forced into menial labor. After the war, Dr. Vogt was able to teach the method to a few students before his death, including Friedrich Sanides. In 1977, Dr. Sanides came to Beth Israel as a visiting professor and taught cytoarchitectonics to Dr. Galaburda.

"You must study the brain in this kind of excruciating detail lest you miss something important," says Dr. Galaburda.

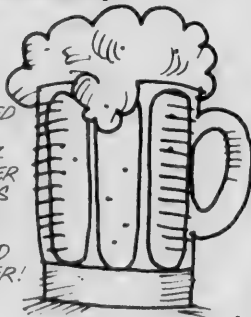

Dr. Galaburda cautions against generalizing from this case to all other cases of dyslexia because of the many forms which the disorder takes. "More general conclusions will have to await the study of more brains of dyslexic individuals." Since dyslexia is not a fatal disease, however, there have been few opportunities available for study.

Dr. Galaburda, who specializes in studying the cortex to explain language and behavioral functions, has also found anatomical abnormalities in the brains of

Paintings On Exhibit

An exhibition of paintings by Jean McSherry DeRosa will open at the Andover Gallery of Fine Art, 91 North Main Street, Andover, on Friday, Nov. 9. The showing of approximately eighteen pieces of work will remain on view through November 30. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Saturday 9 to 5, Sunday 2 to 5, Monday, closed. Income, Sales Up At Raytheon

Raytheon Company has reported a 35 percent increase in third quarter net income on a 13 percent increase in sales compared with the third quarter a year ago.

Earnings per share rose to a record $1.76 compared with $1.31 a year ago.

In the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1979, Raytheon's net income was $55,110,000 compared with $40,794,000 last year. Third quarter sales were $888,495,000 versus $781,499,000 in the same period a year ago.

The nine-month period also set records for sales, earnings, and earnings per share. Earnings rose to $149,154,000, or $4.77 per share, from $112,387,000, or $3.62 per share, last year. Sales for the first three quarters were $2,741,774,000 compared to $2,385,331,000.

In the third quarter, operating income increased 31.4 percent. Investment income, aided by higher interest rates, advanced 17.5 percent.

After-tax income in the third quarter was increased by a one-time adjustment of $3,200,000 or $.10 per share resulting from the recent change in British tax laws which favorably affected results of Raytheon's subsidiaries in the United Kingdom.

Raytheon's electronics business area, which produces components, equipment, and systems for government, industrial and commercial customers, continued to account for most of the growth.

At the end of September, the company's total backlog was $3.785 billion, of which $1.377 billion was funded by the U.S. Government. Last year the total backlog was $3.895 billion, including $1.403 billion in U.S. Government-funded orders.

Per share earnings are computed on the average number of shares outstanding in the period. For the third quarter, this amounted to 31,316,000 shares this year and 31,129,000 shares in 1978. For the nine months, there were 31,267,000 average shares outstanding compared with 31,038,000 last year.

Provision for federal and foreign taxes amounted to $33,595,000 in the third quarter and $101,709,000 in the first nine months. A year ago, tax provisions were $28,515,000 and $83,855,000 respectively.

The company's worldwide employment stands at 65,000.

Slave Rails

From 1830 to 1860 almost 1,000 slaves fled north each year on the underground railroad. The system reached from Kentucky and Virginia across Ohio, and from Maryland across Pennsylvania to New York and New England, according to Old Sturbridge Village, the living history museum in Sturbridge.

Anti-Left

Car thieves will have to go back to school to learn some new tricks of their trade. Detroit will make it a little more difficult for them to get away with what they're doing. The 1980 models will have six additional components identified with numbers. These include front fenders, right-front door, hood, trunk lid and rear body structure. In addition, the VIN (vehicle identification number) will be typed on a special label which will self-destruct if any attempt is made to remove it.

Robert J. Strauss

Honored By Coast Guard

For the second time in less than a year a Commodore of the First Coast Guard District, U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, has been honored by the presentation of the coveted "Michelob Schooner."

Commodore Robert J. Strauss of Andover, received the handsome hand-crafted sterling silver one-mast yacht replica at recent ceremonies at the Salem Inn. The trophy is presented from time to time to those making an outstanding contribution to boating safety.

Immediate Past Commodore Joseph A. Polito of Shrewsbury, received the award last March. Chester W. Ruggles of Plymouth, a member of the auxiliary national staff, and the district's membership training officer, is also a recent recipient.

In making the presentation, the Auxiliary's National Vice-Commodore, Aime R. Bernard, cited Strauss for exceptional administrative merit. "Despite the First District's relatively small size in comparison to other districts, the First scored first and foremost in numerous categories over the last few years," said Bernard, "and much of this can be attributed in no small way to Commodore Strauss' leadership."

Past recipients of the "Schooner," include: Vice-Admiral Austin C. Wagner, USCG, former Chief, Office of Boating Safety; Admiral Chester R. Bender, USCG, Retd., former Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard; Congresswoman Leonor K. Sullivan; William C. Lucey, Past Chief Commander, U.S. Power Squadrons; Captain Merrill K. Wood, USCG, former Chief Director, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary; and Harold B. Haney, Past National Commodore, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Boston Ballet

The Boston Ballet Ensemble, which tours extensively throughout New England and gives more than 70 performances to audiences annually, will appear in the church auditorium of Merrimack College on Monday, Nov. 26 at 8 p.m. This presentation will be sponsored by the Merrimack College of Accounting and Finance Society.

The program will include: "Valse Fantasie," one of three sections taken from the full ballet "Glikaiana," choreographed by George Balanchine to music by M. Glinka; "Pas de Deux," from two sections of Claude Debussy's "Le Petite Suite," in a free-flowing dance for two; "Tubby the Tuba," a classic story of musical instruments that comes alive; and "Rags," first presented for a series of special concerts with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in 1975. It is a nostalgic reminiscence of American Ragtime, the forerunner of jazz.

For more than half a century as a major Harvard teaching hospital, Beth Israel has built a reputation that emphasizes a sensitivity to both the medical and the emotional needs of patients. Its statement on "The Rights of Patients" was the first of its kind to be published, and served as a model for similar statements issued by other hospitals and enacted in legislation in various states.

Saroyan Play Opens

Boston Shakespeare Company is presenting William Saroyan's Pulitzer Prize winning play, 'The Time of Your Life,' as its non-Shakespearean offering this season. 'The Time of Your Life,' which opens Nov. 14, is regarded as the quint essential American comedy, filled with a cast of lively and vivid characters.

The BSC production will be directed by Susan L. McGinley, who directed the critically-acclaimed "Cuckolds" at the Next Move Theater.

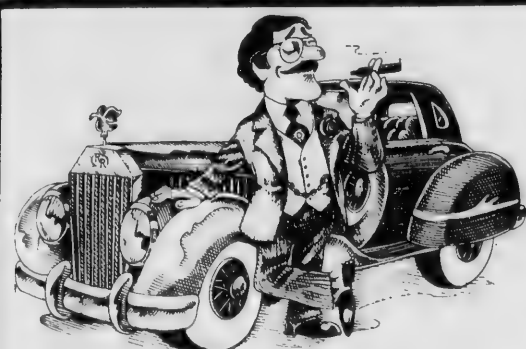

'The Time of Your Life' is set in Nick's Street Saloon, Restaurant, and Entertainment Palace at the foot of Embarcadero, in San Francisco. In the cast are Joe (Richard McElvain), a young loafer with money and a good heart; Tom (Henry Woronicz), Joe's admirer, disciple, errand boy, stooge, and friend; Kitty Duval (Kirsten Giroux), a young woman with memories; and many more colorful characters which make 'The Time of Your Life' a sparkling play.

In addition, Boston Shakespeare Company will continue 'King Lear' in repertory with 'The Time of Your Life' will run November 14 to 17, then every Thursday and Saturday evening. King Lear will be performed every Wednesday and Friday until Jan. 5.

All performances begin at 8:00 p.m. at 300 Mass Ave., Boston.

In 1978, Las Vegas was host to 421 conventions, 69 more than the previous year.

staged today through Saturday, Nov. 8 to 10 in Denworth Hall.

Critic/evaluators from the New England region will be on hand to judge the production. Up to eight winners will perform at a regional festival. Finalists from across the country will appear in a showcase of American college theatre at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C.

More than 400 colleges and universities are entered in this year's festival. Last year's productions involved over 12,000 student performers playing to two million audience members.

"The Rimers," an off-Broadway success, features a cast of 17 players in a story that reveals the inner life of a small midwestern town. The stage is arranged with a series of platforms and the entire cast remains on stage throughout the play.

It usually takes eight years from the first geological survey of an oil field until the first gasoline is pumped into a car.

REALTOR

HOW MUCH TAXABLE PROFIT?

When you sell your home at a profit, the difference between the cost and the selling price is taxable (unless you defer it by buying a more expensive home). The important cost basis is the sum of the original cost plus the dollar-value of improvements and selling expenses. Although the average homeowner can usually determine the amount originally paid for the home, he usually lacks information regarding improvements which have been made during ownership.

Amounts spent for replacements, alterations or improvements which increased the value of the property can be added to the original cost basis to determine the gain or loss at sale. Not only should the homeowner know the dollar amounts of the improvements, he should be able to substantiate these facts in the event of an IRS examination. So keep those records and check stubs.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., ANDOVER. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

the carpet saying it would benefit students who were allergic to the mold which had grown on it.

Seifert suggested placing the old carpeting in the school administration offices, and laughed. Committeeman John Eaton had another idea. "They can make penicillin out of it," he said.

Chemical

The lift station would pump sewerage uphill from the firm into the town's gravity sewer, which is adjacent to their property.

Clark reported that there appears to be no other feasible alternative for the firm's waste but to tie into the sewer. The piece of property is small and it is right on the river, so there could be a danger of an on-site system leaking into the Shawsheen.

The pump will not be for public use and will be owned and maintained by the company.

Clark said that his recommendation doesn't answer the overall policy question on lift stations "in a conclusive way." However, he emphasized that each case should be judged on its own merits, and he urged selectmen to very carefully weigh approval of such a station outside a sewer area.

DPW Director Robert McQuade said that Shawsheen Chemical's present subsurface system is antiquated and that they wanted to make improvements before any problems occur.

Contract Awarded

A bid for transporting four special education students to schools in Lincoln and Sudbury was accepted by the school committee pending approval of town counsel.

The bid for $67 per day was offered by P. M. Floor Cleaning Corp. of Andover, doing business as Andover Morrissey Taxi. The possible addition of North Andover students to the route could reduce Andover's cost.

Down The Years

10 Years Ago — November 1969

Possibilities of the development of the A. J. Tambone shopping center on Lowell Street in West Andover near the Tewksbury line, was discussed this week by selectmen. Tambone, in discussion with Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, said that he was hopeful of being able to inform local officials of the names of some of the stores which will locate in the multi-acre complex soon, possibly sometime in December.

An increase of $300 in tuition rates at Phillips Academy, the third in five years, was approved by the board of trustees at its recent fall meeting. Rates will be $2700 for boarding and $1900 for day students.

Andover's first educational town meeting is next Monday, and promises to be the most dramatic exemplification of Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert's announced policy of "opening up the gates of the school to the community."

Selectmen unanimously approved the retaining of a consultant to assist in collective bargaining discussions with municipal employees.

Scoring "internal apathy and moral decay, the breaking down of moral ties," as a serious threat to America, U. S. Marine Corps. Maj. E. J. Land addressed a Veteran Day exercise at Spring Grove Cemetery.
